Education, Religion and Diversity: Developing a new model ...

Education, Religion and Diversity is a wide-ranging, provocative exploration of religious education in modern liberal democracies. It is essential reading for those concerned with the role of religion in education and for religious and theological educators who want to think critically about the aims and character of religious education.

Education, religion and diversity: developing a new model ...

Philip Barnes book Education, Religion and Diversity is a substantial and clearly presented discussion of various models of religious education that have appeared since the late 1960s in Britain, in reaction to traditional, so-called confessional , forms of the subject. Drawing on his Education, Religion and Diversity | Developing a new model ...

Education, Religion and Diversity identifies and explores the commitments and convictions that have guided post-confessional religious education and concludes controversially that the subject as currently theorised and practised is incapable of challenging religious intolerance and of developing respectful relationships between people from different communities and groups within society. It is Education, Religion and Diversity: Developing a new model ...
